

Best PhD Presentation Award, AES 2019 – Evaluation form

Dear conference participant,

Please, consider contributing to the AES Best PhD Presentation Award by filling in the evaluation form on the other side of this sheet for the PhD presentation(s) you will hear in this Discussion Paper session. Your feedback is highly valuable to the early career researcher and for the decision of the Award.

To ensure fairness, PhD students are asked NOT to complete these evaluation forms.

Yours sincerely,

Neil Chalmers, Jorie Knook and Clare Dias

Please return this evaluation sheet by placing it into the box at the reception desk by Tuesday 15.45 (16th April)

Your name:
Session:	Date:	Time:	Room:
Name of presenter:
Title of talk:

Please rate the talk by ticking the appropriate box in each row (Please be reminded that this prize is judged on the presentation only, not the written paper – if that is available.). Please add up your scores in the ‘Total’ column.

Example: With regards to “Organisation”, if you thought that the presentation was average (2 marks) for “Logical, clear line of reasoning” and good (3 marks) for “Internal consistency of arguments” then that section would be awarded a total of 5 marks (2 + 3) out of a possible 10.

Judging criteria		Weak (1)	Average (2)	Good (3)	Very good (4)	Excellent (5)	Total
Organisation	Logical, clear line of reasoning						/10
	Internal consistency of arguments
Depth of content	Importance/clarity of research question						/25
	Explanation of key concepts, theory
	Drawing upon relevant literature
	Clarity of methodology and results
	Meaningful conclusions
Presentation style	Presentation is appropriate for the target audience						/15
	Paced for audience’s understanding
	Audible
Verbal interaction	Clarifies, restates and responds to questions						/10
	Summarizes when needed
Communication aids	Tables/figures are self-explanatory and visible						/10
	Details are minimized, main points stand out
Comments:							/70